

RON PAUL'S FUTURE ■ JOHN W. MCCAIN ■ CONSCIENCE OF A CARNIVORE

APRIL 21, 2008

The American Conservative

SUPERPOWER

China's Olympian Quest

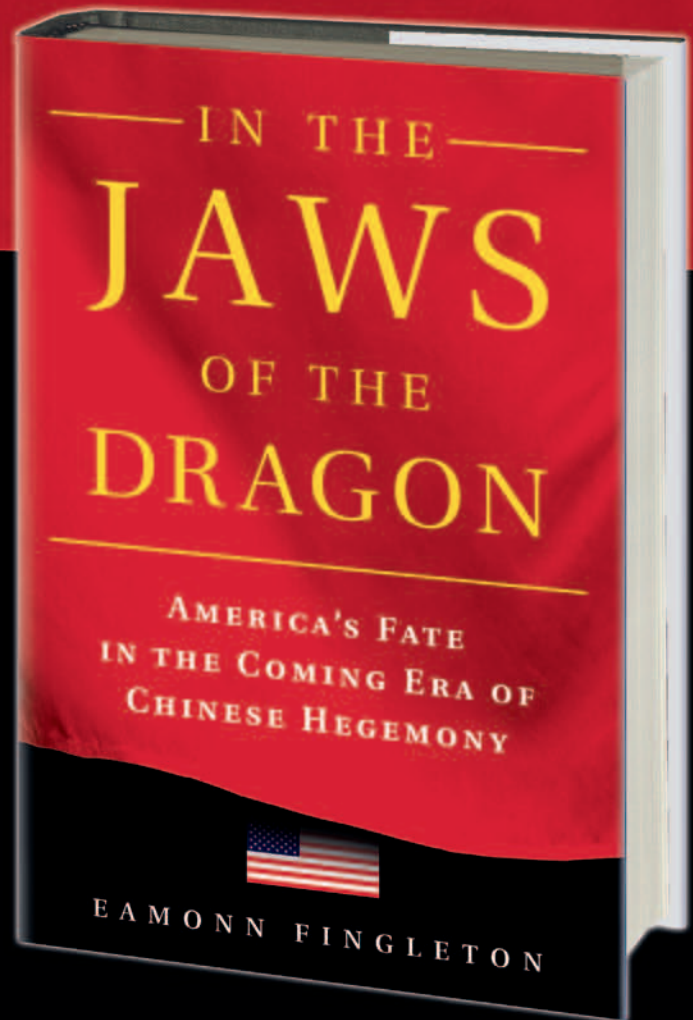

LICENSED TO UNE.ORG
ELECTRONIC REPRODUCTION PROHIBITED

★ THE CHINESE ★ ARE EATING ★ OUR LUNCH!

Scholar and economist Eamonn Fingleton sounds a wake-up call to those who dream that through free-market capitalism, China will embrace American values and welcome U.S. firms.

Fingleton shows that, despite “world-is-flat” promises, China will remain protectionist. The U.S., seeking access to Chinese markets, is already bowing to Beijing’s will and is becoming more like China—authoritarian, with growing gaps between rich and poor—but without our competitor’s combination of discipline and market efficiencies.

Fingleton prescribes practical remedies to help Uncle Sam extricate his coattails from the jaws of the dragon. This is a must read for anyone concerned with globalization or the future of America’s economy.

“Fingleton is an expert on how globalization is helping China . . . hollow out the American economy. No one has observed globalization more keenly and no one writes about it more readably.”

—Ernest F. “Fritz” Hollings, Chairman,
Senate Commerce Committee, 2001–2004

unsustainable.org

THOMAS DUNNE BOOKS

ST. MARTIN'S PRESS

LICENSED TO UNZ.ORG
ELECTRONIC REPRODUCTION PROHIBITED