“Excellent program, thought stimulating, please continue your program as long as possible.

I really enjoyed your recent program on taxes. I really enjoy how Mr. Wattenberg can delve deeply into a subject yet keep the discourse comprehensible for those of us lacking PhDs, JDs, MDs, and the rest of the D's.

I am a 22 yr. old college student who loves your show! I watch almost every episode I can, and always am excited about what I will learn each time. I particularly appreciate Mr. Wattenberg's frank but fair manner with his guests.

Ben Wattenberg is my favorite TV personality. I have 'known' him all my life. If for some reason or another I miss his 9AM slot, I am truly disappointed. I cannot say the same for any other program. Best part? Diversity of subjects -- always interesting.

I thought the two-part show on the Western Cinema was innovative. Keep up your fine work and thank you for your program.

Your show on the future of U.S. and EU relations was fascinating. THINK TANK has become my favorite show. Keep up the excellent and thought-provoking work.

Loved the Easterbrook interview. The nicest thing about your show is that he had the time to impart a satisfying depth of information. Thank you for an excellent show. I'll have to watch it more often. ”

There are good reasons to give your employees health benefits that are easy to use.
For starters, you're an employee too.

At CIGNA, we provide health benefits that are simple to use, and simple to administer. We've built an integrated network that supports all your health care needs: medical, dental, pharmacy, vision and behavioral health. So when it comes time to use your benefits, everything you'll need can work together.

What difference does that make? Better health outcomes, for one. Simpler administration for another. And greater financial benefits for a third. Because when things are working better for your employees, you feel a lot better, too.
