

TROLLOPE

ALL those who are reading Mr. Michael Sadleir's Trollope will want to possess the "Autobiography" upon which he so finely and so enthusiastically comments.

It is obtainable in the World's Classics, as are also ten of Trollope's best known novels:

BARCHESTER TOWERS
THE WARDEN
DR. THORNE
FRAMLEY PARSONAGE
THE THREE CLERKS
RACHEL RAY
MISS MACKENZIE
THE VICAR OF BULLHAMPTON
THE CLAVERINGS
THE BELTON ESTATE

Each 80c at all booksellers

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
American Branch New York City

BOOKSELLING

A PROFESSION AND A BUSINESS

Selling books is an enthralling profession and a profitable business. To those equipped with a knowledge of books, an interest in human nature, business ability and an adequate amount of capital no occupation offers a richer reward. Write us for free helpful information and practical suggestions about selling books.

BOOKSELLING INFORMATION SERVICE
ROOM 776, 18 W. 34TH STREET, NEW YORK

XXX

Check List of NEW BOOKS

Continued from page xxviii

Pascal." The translation, by Malcolm Cowley, is only fair; he has contributed a brief introduction.

FIGURES OF THE PAST.

By Josiah Quincy.

Little, Brown & Company

$4

8¾ x 5¾; 347 pp.

Boston

A new edition of the journals of Josiah Quincy, a former mayor of Boston and a member of the Class of 1821 of Harvard College, with an introduction and footnotes by M. A. DeWolfe Howe, whose access to unpublished Quincy papers and photographs has enabled him to materially enhance the interest of the former collection. The journals in themselves are delightful; the author writes with a charming simplicity, recording wittily and vividly his recollections of Lafayette, of the Harvard of a hundred years ago, and of John Adams, John Randolph, Andrew Jackson and many others. An interesting and valuable book. It is competently annotated and indexed.

A SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY, LETTERS TO ELIZA, And Other Pieces.

By Laurence Sterne. Edited With an Introduction by Wilbur L. Cross.

Boni & Liveright

$3.50

8½ x 5½; 307 pp.

New York

The volume is uniform with Professor Cross' edition of "Tristram Shandy," published in 1925, and contains those works of Sterne which constitute a virtual autobiography: "A Sentimental Journey," "Letters to Eliza," "Bramine's Journal" and several of his Yorick sermons. Professor Cross has written an excellent introduction.

TRAVEL

THE GENTLE ART OF TRAMPING.

By Stephen Graham.

D. Appleton & Company

$2.50

8 x 5¼; 271 pp.

New York

One of the most delightful books of its kind ever written. It is a long prose poem in praise of the outdoors. The professional hobo will, perhaps, find it a bit velvety, but the civilized man, choked with exhaust gas and chained to his desk, will get many a ruffle of the spirit from it.

TRAMPING THROUGH PALESTINE.

By Milton J. Goell.

The Kensington Press

$2

8½ x 5½; 243 pp.

New York

The diary of the author's two months' tramping tour through the Holy Land. An informing and entertaining book.

Continued on page xxxii

from Boston to Singapore

Not only is "The Story of Philosophy," by Will Durant, being read from Boston to Singapore and back again around the other side of the globe, but the number of pages in the sold copies alone, if placed end to end, would reach from the famous T wharf in Boston to the spice-scented docks of Singapore.

This is all the more astonishing when one considers that "The Story of Philosophy" is not a tale of fancy or imagination, but the supposedly "dry-as-dust" lives and teachings of philosophers of all ages. Far from being "dry-as-dust," this volume is a clear, convincing—and exciting—exposition of "the art of arts and science of sciences." Read it yourself, and see why the measured judgment of America's foremost critics on this amazing book by Will Durant has been summed up in this four-fold tribute:

"a delight for the heart"
"an adventure for the mind"
"a best-seller for the years"
"a liberal education in itself"

The Story of Philosophy

At all bookshops $5.00

20th large printing—157th thousand

SIMON AND SCHUSTER, INC., Publishers
37 West 57th Street New York