

Donald Atwell Zoll

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY MIND

Essays on Contemporary Thought. Among other contemporary questions, the author examines the relationship between religion and education, the 1964 Goldwater campaign and its implications for conservatism, and the contradictions implicit in the recent civil disobedience movements. The affluent society, says Professor Zoll, "has become a slippery euphemism for a national orgy of compulsive greed, vulgarity, and frenetic entertainment."

THE HERO

WITH THE PRIVATE PARTS

Introduction by Allen Tate. A collection of essays by Andrew Lytle, novelist, critic, and one of the South's leading literary figures for the past 35 years. Lytle's combined consciousness as a critic and writer illuminates the strengths and flaws of Flaubert, Tolstoy, Hemingway, Faulkner, and other literary giants. In an essay on the evolution of one of his own novels, The Velvet Horn, Lytle offers a rare insight into the creative process.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LITERARY FORM

One of the most important books by a leading critic of our time. Previously available only in an abridged edition, it has been re-issued in its original form with a new foreword by the author. Burke illuminates the inquiry into the psychology of the poetic art. "Burke is unquestionably the most brilliant and suggestive critic now writing in America." — W. H. Auden. "Burke is perspicuous and brilliantly original."—John Crowe Ransom.

THE TRIAL OF THE GERMANS

Nuremberg 1945-1946

By EUGENE DAVIDSON

An indispensable study of the Nazi period

The bone and flesh of the Nazi state, told through the bizarre case histories of those who served it. While Nuremberg was a collective trial, it is through the life stories of the oddly mixed collection of the leadership of the Hitler period that the reader will discover the many hidden springs of the National Socialist State and the enormities of the Third Reich. In addition to the twenty-two defendants, six major organizations are discussed, representing the men and groups who brought Hitler to power, and kept him there against the wrath of almost the entire world.

The author, currently president of the Foundation for Foreign Affairs in Chicago, was editor and member of the board of directors of Yale University Press. His book is based on seven years of research in the documents of the National Socialist period that have come to light during and since the trial, and on work in research centers of the world, in addition to interviews with everyone from everyday citizens to members of the German High Command.

From Prague After Munich

Diplomatic Papers, 1938-1940

GEORGE F. KENNAN

EPILOGUE BY FREDERICK G. HEYMANN

When Germany occupied Czechoslovakia, most Western observers left; George Kennan stayed on. His diplomatic papers, letters, and notes from Prague illuminate fully a period discussed in his Pulitzer Prize-winning Memoirs. With profound insight he conveys the political and personal effects on Czechoslovakia of Munich and the German occupation. $6.50

France in the Age of the Scientific State

ROBERT GILPIN, JR.

The author of American Scientists and Nuclear Weapons Policy examines France's leadership in the battle against United States and Russian scientific hegemony in Europe. He warns that if Europe remains disunited in its administration of scientific policy and continues to be "the main world importer of discoveries and exporter of brains," it may become steadily weaker in international affairs. Published for the Center of International Studies, Princeton University. $12.50

Germany and the Ottoman Empire, 1914-1918

ULRICH TRUMPENER

Professor Trumpener questions whether the Germans were actually as influential or dominant in the Ottoman empire as most standard works have suggested. He attacks the myths surrounding Turkey's role in the war, and considers the nature and results of Germany's wartime policies toward the Ottoman empire. $12.50

Yearbook on International Communist Affairs

[1968 EDITION]

RICHARD V. ALLEN. With its current 1968 edition, covering the events of the calendar year 1967, the YEARBOOK continues to be the only comprehensive annual publication in English on the domestic and international political activities of the various communist parties, their policies toward one another, and their concerted and separate responses to world development. "The Hoover Institution deserves high credit for this pioneering work which provides chronology, major documents, and extremely well-done analyses. The book is highly recommended and worth the price." — LIBRARY JOURNAL (subscription rate, $20.00 each copy) $25.00

Communist China and Arms Control

A CONTINGENCY STUDY, 1967-1976

Prepared by a staff of specialists at the Hoover Institution under the direction of Dr. Yuan-li Wu, whose penetrating analysis of the Peking regime appears in MODERN AGE, this important study probes the principal factors that are likely to determine Communist China's arms control policies and attitudes for the next ten years. A must for those concerned with Communist China's foreign and domestic policy goals for the next decade — particularly regarding defense and the arms race. $5.00

The Communist Regimes in Eastern Europe:

AN INTRODUCTION

RICHARD F. STAAR. Country by country, in separate chapters for each, the author surveys the regimes and developments in all aspects of government in: Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, and Yugoslavia. A recap of the post-1945 history with emphasis on the current situation in each of these East European states is given. Separate chapters deal with the interaction among the bloc countries and with the Soviet Union, and provide a valuable and timely background for understanding very recent developments. $7.50

Burden of Empire

AN APPRAISAL OF WESTERN COLONIALISM IN AFRICA SOUTH OF THE SAHARA

L. H. GANN AND PETER DUIGNAN. Myths about the alleged exploitation of Africa by former colonial Powers are the target of this bold reassessment of African history and Western imperialism. "... a book that has long been needed. It has taken courage and conviction to produce, plus a detached scholarship that should make it required reading for any student of Africa for as long as colonial rule on the 'Dark Continent' is a subject for study and debate." — ST.
