

MAY 24 '48

Saturday Review

of LITERATURE

VOL. XXXI No. 21

MAY 22, 1948

FIFTEEN CENTS

SR 9/24/9R 40-7-22
TUSCULUM COLLEGE LIBRARY
GREENEVILLE, TENN.

From "The Memoirs of Cordell Hull": "I was listened to but not heeded." (See page 9)

Joseph Conrad: An Enigma Decoded

By LOUIS J. HALLE, JR.

Miss Pym Disposes

By JOSEPHINE TEY

Miss Pym thought she knew more than the psychologists, until a murder took place among the brilliant students of Leys College. That shook her—and it will shake you too. Here's a subtle kind of horror—with brilliant slashes of wit.

She lost her aplomb...

$2.50

The Black Laurel

By STORM JAMESON

This gripping novel, set in the wreckage of war-torn Europe, tells of human beings caught in the crisis of western civilization. "The best novel of post-war Europe so far written... as thrillingly absorbing as a story of suspense... prose of a quality uncommon today."—Kelsey Guilfoil, Chicago Tribune.

$3.00

Announcing . . . the reissue of a great novel for which there will now be an eager public—

The Princess Casamassima

By Henry James

With an Introduction by LIONEL TRILLING

The Princess Casamassima was first published in this country by The Macmillan Company in 1886. No edition of it has been in print here since 1908. Now that Henry James has been restored to the eminent place he deserves in literature, there will be a new and eager public for this great novel. Its unique quality and importance have long been recognized by the group of critics who led the James revival. In his brilliant introduction, Lionel Trilling places the novel in the great tradition of War and Peace, The Red and the Black, Great Expectations, etc. Two handsome volumes, boxed.

$6.00

No Son of Mine

By G. B. STERN

A charming vagrant looks enough like Robert Louis Stevenson to be his natural son. He fools a lot of people—but he can't fool himself. You'll enjoy this unusual novel, which also gives a revealing and authentic portrayal of Stevenson himself.

$3.50

the Hunters and the Hunted

the Hunted

By SACHEVERELL SITWELL

For a glorious art pilgrimage, let the youngest Sitwell show you the wonders—present or passed away—of nature, art and music. This hauntingly beautiful book of art criticism "is an intellectual banquet," says Time. With 16 beautiful full page illustrations.

Glamour in art...

$4.00

MACMILLAN