To solve this puzzle you must guess twenty-odd WORDS, the definitions of which are given in the column headed DEFINITIONS. Alongside each definition, there is a row of dashes—one for each letter in the required word. When you have guessed a word, write it on the dashes, and also write each letter in the correspondingly numbered square of the puzzle diagram. . . . When the squares are all filled in, you will find that you have completed a quotation from some published work. If read up and down, the letters in the diagram have no meaning. . . . Black squares indicate ends of words; if there is no black square at the right side of the diagram, the word carries over to the next line. . . . When all the WORDS are filled in, their initial letters spell the name of the author and the title of the piece from which the quotation has been taken. Of great help to the solver are this acrostic feature and the relative shapes of words in the diagram as they develop. Authority for spellings and definitions is Webster's New International Dictionary, Second Edition.

Solution of last week's Double-Crostic will be found on page 49 of this issue.

A sight for tourists at St. Augustine, Fla. — the Castillo de San Marcos National Monument. It dates back to 1672.

In our oldest city — you'll find the fountain of America's youth...

The first tourist to the St. Augustine area was the Spanish explorer, Ponce de Leon, who landed nearby in 1513. According to legend, he was searching for the Fountain of Youth whose waters offered perpetual youth. Some fifty years later the town was founded and later fortified to protect the Spanish galleons as they sailed for the Old World with the treasures of the New.

Today, St. Augustine offers treasures of its own to the 400,000 tourists who drive there every year. Besides the oldest masonry fort, Castillo de San Marcos, there are the Alligator Farm, the Lightner Museum of Hobbies and, nearby, Marineland. And in the city's quaint old Spanish quarter, you'll find The Oldest House as well as The Oldest Wooden Schoolhouse.

In its turbulent 400-year history St. Augustine has been put to the torch three times... been sacked by Sir

Francis Drake... known pirate raids and Indian attacks.

But through it all, St. Augustine has endured... as this nation itself has endured. This endurance... this will to survive hardship and grow... is the fountain from which America draws its perpetual youth. And fittingly enough, you'll find it well demonstrated in the nation's oldest city, just about where Ponce de Leon looked for it more than four centuries ago...
