experts in making appetizing dishes containing no fat, no albumen, no starch, no nothing. In the late afternoon you go to the Mühlbrunnen and drink more waters. Then you walk again. The doctor tells you to dance at the Sanssouci, but who wants to dance on an empty stomach? A very light dinner and early to bed." He sighed. "I'll start tomorrow morning."

"Aren't you going to the Zionist Congress?" I asked.

"Of course, we're going. But I'm also taking the waters."

I began to understand why the leaders of world Zionism had chosen the spa for their congress. After enjoying too many portions of Polish carp and paprika chicken, gefüllte fish and another fateful piece of goose liver, they came here to do something for their soul (Zionism) and body (the waters). The next morning I accompanied Uncle Leo to the Sprudel, as the hot geyser was called. It was very impressive, shooting up over 2,000 liters of water a minute (according to Baedeker), and the temperature was 73 Centigrade. Baedeker had also informed me that the Sprudel had been discovered by Charles IV, Holy Roman emperor and King of Moravia-our Moravia!-one day in 1347 when he was deer hunting, but the Karlsbaders took a dim view of this legend. Personally I like Charles IV, who founded Prague University, my alma mater, one year after the alleged deer hunt, and that's no legend.

Uncle Leo bought me one of the special cups, with a painted sign "Souvenir from Karlsbad" and a handle made of porcelain straw, and I queued up with him in the Sprudel pavilion for our ration of waters: a salty, noxious-tasting liquid. People walked around, sipping it as if it were vintage claret. Most looked as if they had eaten too many rich sauces too often for the past eleven months, and were now trying to get in shape during the twelfth month for another eleven months of good eating. Uncle Leo pointed out several great Zionist leaders to me. I understood. Con-

SIDE FROM the few cane-carrying convalescents who lingered in a corner of the lobby, there was little of the Kurhaus look about the Palm Springs Spa the night I checked in there recently. With its bright, methodically decorated, almost flashy, super-motel (motel is a word that is totally non grata in Palm Springs) air, it looked about as much like the old spas of Baden-Baden. Badgastein, Karlsbad, or even Saratoga as the Avenue Foch resembles the Strip in Las Vegas. The piano that tinkled out of the pitch-black bar sent the tune of the moment faintly through the corridors like a glass broken in a room down a distant hall. "Hello, Dolly, well, hello, Dolly, it's so nice to have you back where you belong. . . ." Palm Springs' wellstocked selection of divorcees drifted through the corridors seeking conversation and a friend. In the dining salon, inevitably called the Agua Room, the diners were working on chicken in the pot with matzoh balls, roast prime ribs of beef with Yorkshire pudding, and a rolling cart of splendid pastries. Pounds gained in the evening could be steamed off the next day.

The good spa life is only one of the many ways one can mend or recreate in Palm Springs, which, to the residents of California and to many from the rest of the country, does for the body and the soul what the old watering spots were so well acknowledged to do for the wealthy who sought them in their salad days of the nineteenth century. One can, of course, ride in the desert, play tennis at the social Tennis Club or the Hollywoodsy Racquet Club, play golf at one of the eighteen courses sprinkled over the dry valley floor like green oases in the Sahara, swish in the heated waters of one of the 3,350 swimming pools that puddle a town with a population of 18,200, or watch the stars at work or play. Besides those who come to lounge at their weekend homes or at the hotels, there are also Gene Autry, who operates two hotels, Jack Benny, George Burns, Burt Lancaster, Groucho Marx, and Fred Waring, all of whom grow citrus, Lind-(Continued on page 82)

Imagine...a week's vacation to Europe for only $10 extra!

The wonderful vacation "buy" that a little planning...and the Holland-America Line...can get you.

by LLOYD ROBERTS Photos by Bob Swenson

I have noticed, in my travels, two varieties of vacationers—those determined, at any price, to exploit as fully as possible every minute allotted them; and those who see a vacation not only as a time for recreation but for re-creation as well—and I mean re-creation of the corpus as well as of the spirit.

Frankly these latter, I think, wind up getting much more out of every minute than the folks who run themselves ragged making every minute "count."

As a matter of fact, if you look upon a vacation to Europe as I happen to look upon it—as an opportunity to rest and relax and enjoy yourself as well as to come home with 400 color slides

Peter Sager, Vancouver, B.C.—sculptor, sketching the waves ... "I must travel back and forth across the Atlantic quite often on business. Holland-America ships seem to have a certain atmosphere that you never quite find any place else. It makes me feel very content."

to show your friends—I can tell you how to get a fabulous week's vacation en route for a mere $10 more than the cost of basic transportation.

I'm talking about going at least one way by ship. Between going by ship and coming home by ship, I frankly prefer the former—although I must admit that the latter has much to recommend it. Nevertheless, it seems to me that being able to rest up from the daily grind and pressures of just getting ready to go, which going by ship makes possible, is the best of all ways to be ready for the wonderful adventure that is Europe. At the same time, returning by ship certainly lets you recuperate from all the running around you do while there.

You decide which school to join. (Or decide to go both ways by ship.) Let me make clear the remarkable economics.

During Holland-America Line's thrift season-the months from August to May-jet economy class to London costs $210-one way. For that you get about seven hours aloft and two meals. For just $10 more, you can travel tourist class on the Holland-America Line's Nieuw Amsterdam or Statendam to Southampton-it's another $10 more on the flagship Rotterdam-and get six wonderful days at sea, a comfortable stateroom for two, gracious service, three excellent meals a day (plus morning bouillon, afternoon tea and a midnight buffet supper-all included), the chance to see first-run movies in a theater, to play miniature golf, or deck tennis, or to go swimming; entertainment and night life in a variety of cafes aboard ship, and the opportunity to shop for all kinds of fascinating merchandise (and jewelry) at duty-free mid-Atlantic prices.

Incidentally, even in the busy summer season, this $10 difference holds true; and if you win the horse races, bingo, or ship's pool for the day's run it might not even cost you that—you might actually save money!

On a Holland-America Line ship you get something else, too—a thing the Dutch call gezelligheid. This is definitely not an hors d'oeuvre or what you're expected to say when someone sneezes. It's a word describing a particular "feeling"—the kind of feeling you encounter specifically aboard a Dutch ship. A friendliness, an informality that adds to your enjoyment. There's no charge for this, either. As the song has it, The best things in life are free.

In fact, just $10 extra for all this is

Miss Dawn Gaignat, Lubbock, Texas—receiving a golf tip from the social director—"I never dreamed there was so much to do aboard the ship. We've been having a ball from morning to night. And part of that fun has been the friendliness of the people."

about as close to "free" as you can come! You can spend more if you wish for more luxurious accommodations— $20 extra, $30 extra, no matter: it buys for you an experience you'll never forget and never regret. (And if you'd like to save money, consider Holland-America's thriftliners: the Maasdam, or Ryndam. You get even lower rates on these.)

If you're interested, you can get literature on the subject from an authorized travel agent near you or from the Holland-America Line, Pier 40-North River, New York.

Mrs. Hanne Ventillius, North Miami Beach, Florida —in the main dining room . . . "It was enjoyable and relaxing to sail the Atlantic with Holland-America. My son, too, has found so many things to do. I've especially enjoyed the continental menu and the attentive service."
