

THE PAMPHLET SHELF

About Children

CHILD LABOR FACTS, by Gertrude Folks Zimand. From National Child Labor Committee, 419 Fourth Avenue, New York. 38 pp. Price 25 cents, less in quantity.

How many children are working today, where they are, what they are doing; how the situation has changed since the 1930 census. The present status of the child labor amendment; pertinent federal and state legislation.

MODERN SCIENCE AND THE EXCEPTIONAL CHILD: Proceedings of Fifth Institute on the Exceptional Child of the Child Research Clinics of the Woods Schools, Langhorne, Pa. 51 pp.

Outstanding psychiatrists, psychologists, pediatricians, educators, others concerned with the general field of child welfare, discussing psychoses in early adolescence, problems of aggression and hostility, social maturation, growth in height.

THE SOCIAL-SEX DEVELOPMENT OF CHILDREN, by Elise Hatt Campbell. Published by The Journal Press, Provincetown, Mass. 89 pp.

An attempt to analyze the development of the social relationship between boys and girls from five to sixteen years of age, and to arrive at a picture of the social pattern through which each individual develops into a heterosexual being. Based on observations of normal American boys and girls in a free recreational situation.

Professional Techniques

THE STUDY GROUP: How to CONDUCT IT SUCCESSFULLY. National Council of Jewish Women and National Council of Jewish Juniors, 1819 Broadway, New York. Price 10 cents.

Such practical matters as how to arouse interest, requisites for a leader, the technique of organizing, planning the year's work. Prepared with the help of successful group leaders.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONFERENCE ON ORIENTATION AND RE-ORIENTATION. Published by the New York City Committee on Mental Hygiene of the State Charities Aid Association and Mental Hygiene Section of the Welfare Council, 105 East 22 Street, New York. 20 pp. Price 40 cents.

Reports presented at a conference for all social workers in psychiatric clinics and hospitals in the New York metropolitan area, covering such topics as civil service and psychiatric social work, resources for clinical treatment of mental hygiene patients, use of the social service exchange by mental hygiene agencies.

Social Studies

ALIMONY, VOL. VI, No. 2, OF LAW AND CONTEMPORARY PROBLEMS. Published by the School of Law, Duke University, Durham, N. C. 320 pp. Price 75 cents from the university.

The social implications of alimony laws discussed by authoritative jurists and a social worker.

FINDINGS OF THE PINE MOUNTAIN YOUTH GUIDANCE INSTITUTE, from Pine Mountain Settlement School, Pine Mountain, Harlan County, Ky. 33 pp.

Sponsored by Harlan County Planning Council, Kiwanis Club, County Board of Education and Pine Mountain Settlement School, the institute considered problems of local rural youth from agriculture to vocational adjustment. The report includes a page of resources for recreational material of general interest to rural field workers.

THE CHURCH AND THE FAMILY, National Council, Protestant Episcopal Church, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York. 110 pp. Price 50 cents.

Papers presented at the annual Conference on Episcopal Social Work covering the social and economic status of the family today, youth problems, preparation for the next family, growth in family life. Disintegrating tensions—international, interracial, political—and the paramount importance of religion in a democracy.

Concerning Employment

MACHINES AND TOMORROW'S WORLD, by William F. Ogburn, Public Affairs Committee, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York. 32 pp. Price 10 cents.

Technology as it has affected our history in the past, as it may affect our national life in the future. Do machines make jobs or destroy them? Will planning help? "Planning without knowing trends is like building a house without a knowledge of materials."

AGE AND THE JOB: Division of Labor Standards, U. S. Department of Labor. From superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C. 11 pp. Price 5 cents.

A dialogue, written with the cooperation of workers as a basis for discussion at union meetings, on the difficulties encountered by older applicants for employment and on possible solutions of the problem. "And stop thinking it's a question of older workers against younger ones. . . . It's jobs for all of us."

Economics

ORGANIZED SCARCITY AND PUBLIC POLICY, by Harry D. Gideonse. From The University of Chicago Press, Chicago, Ill. 53 pp. Price 25 cents.

Discusses monopoly and its implications; its effect upon budgets, economic nationalism, housing, war and peace, decline of democracy, other social problems. Argues for the classic liberalism of free opportunity and unrestricted markets.

RAILROADS IN CRISIS, A PROGRAM FOR REEMPLOYMENT, REHABILITATION AND GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP. Labor Research Association, 80 East 11 Street, New York. 48 pp. Price 10 cents plus 3 cents for mailing; less in quantity.

Summarizes the history of the roads, their relation to the public, shippers, farmers, small business men and the general public; gives significant facts on workers' productivity and wages; analyzes current legislative proposals; urges government ownership which it claims "would eventually restore employment to hundreds of thousands of railroad employees laid off during the past fifteen years."

SCIENCE AND WORLD RESOURCES, by Richard Palmer. Published by Fact, 19 Garrick Street, London, W C 2, England. 96 pp. Price 6d.

Maintains that there is a trend towards uniformity of natural resources throughout the world resulting from the use of substitutes and synthetic products, the development of new sources of power, scientific agriculture and other factors of modern civilization, and discusses how these things may "iron out geography," foster collective security and invalidate self-sufficiency as a national issue. With the publication of this twenty-first monograph, Fact has come of age.

STATE TRADE WALLS, by F. Eugene Melder. Public Affairs Committee, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York. 31 pp. Price 10 cents.

Professor Melder of Clark University, a leading authority on interstate trade restrictions, discusses state trade barriers now existing, the consequences to producers and consumers, and a program for meeting the situation. A two-page trade barrier map of the United States gives a pictorial summary of state trade walls as of last April.

PHILANTHROPY AND FEDERAL TAX EXEMPTION, by C. Lowell Harriss. Reprint from the Journal of Political Economy, August 1939. 16 pp. From the author, Columbia University, New York.

An analysis of the size and source of gifts and of the applicable provisions of the federal tax laws, based on statistics for 1922-35 and 1936. The author finds that the loss of tax revenue because of exemptions is not considerable because gifts in no way approximate the upper limit of the exemption.

War and Peace

HUMAN DYNAMITE, by Henry C. Wolfe. One of the Headline Books of the Foreign Policy Association, 8 West 40 Street, New York. 98 pp. Price 25 cents.

This brings the story of Europe's minorities down to the outbreak of the present conflict. Why new boundary lines, exchange of minority populations, self-determination, persecution or repression of minorities, all are bound to fail. Gives suggestions for a "thoroughgoing" solution of the problem when the war is over.

UNION FOR PEACE OR WAR? by Rosika Schwimmer. Published by the author, 30 West 70 Street, New York. 19 pp. Price 10 cents.

A critique of Clarence Streit's "Union Now" with its plan for a federal union of leading democracies—"a most important contribution to the literature of world organization"—but with a "grave, inherent danger. . . . Only the organization of a new world order based on a constitution containing the best features of all the tried and proved constitutions of the world . . . can provide a peaceful solution for the problems plaguing mankind."

CHRISTIANITY CONFRONTING WAR, by Hugh Vernon White. Published by the Council for Social Action of Congregational and Christian Churches, 289 Fourth Avenue, New York. 39 pp. Price 15 cents, less in quantity.

An attempt to work out a Christian ethic by which the church and the individual may be guided as regards the issue created by war. Shall Christians become proponents of absolute pacifism, the "just war," or the divine right of the state? In the worth of human personality is found "the firm foundation for the social order, for the political state and for a world system of life in which peoples and nations can live at peace."
