THE RADICAL CENTER

Middle Americans and the Politics of Alienation By Donald I. Warren

One in four Americans shares a radical center perspective. Warren analyzes who they are, what they believe, the major targets of their grievances, and the likelihood of their political mobilization in this election year. A mine of social research, indispensible for anyone wishing to take the pulse of contemporary America. $4.95

University of Notre Dame Press Notre Dame, Indiana 46556

hypnotism, modern dance, meditation, Silva Mind Control, Arica, acupuncture, sex therapy, Reichian therapy...." The list goes on, but you get the idea: Jerry Rubin, 1970sversion, is as much of a jerk as ever.

Jackie and Ari. Lester David, Jhan Robbins. Pocket Books, $1.95. Here's a good example of "gossip" that does not illuminate. In a description of the yacht Christina, for example, we learn that "Charlie the bartender is busy. Charlie is a fixture on the Christina, and his martinis are famous among the Beautiful People. He concocts them of fourand-one-half parts gin to seven-eighths of a part of vermouth. Those who have tasted them pronounce Charlie's martinis the world's finest."

Jackie and Ari and his yacht and their martinis tell us so little precisely because he was so rich and therefore so removed from the everyday world-removed into the world of almost pure fantasy. The same criticism can be made of much of the social coverage in Washington-parties at the Iranian embassy, for example. They do not impinge on the real world any more than life on Ari's yacht does. For that reason, of course, these accounts tend to have a widespread "escapist" appeal, but they tell us very little about our society.

Living with Terrorism. Richard Clutterbuck. Arlington House, $7.95.

Mediterranean Europe and the Common Market: Studies of Economic Growth and Integration. Eric N. Baklanoff, ed. Univ. of Alabama Press, $14.50.

Nightmare: The Underside of the Nixon Years. J. Anthony Lukas. Viking, $15. This history of Watergate is mostly familiar stuff, but you would need to read at least a dozen other books to find all the material Lukas has brought together here. Familiarity makes it tepid reading now, but completeness will make it an indispensable reference in the future.

The Party's Choice. William R. Keech, Donald R. Matthews. Brookings. A valuable history of and commentary upon the presidential nominating process. Almost all the material concerns the period since 1936.

Peacemaking: A Guide to Conflict Resolution for Indviduals, Groups and Nations. Barbara Stanford, ed. Bantam Books, $1.95. A pointless and tedious compilation, which seems to be based on the dubious premise that if only we can have a "dialogue" of high-minded nature on the solemn issues of the day, our problems will eventually disappear. Peace does not prevail not because we are unfamiliar with "peacemaking techniques" or a "definition of peace" or the nature of "interpersonal conflicts," but because human beings are not as sweetly reasonable as the authors of this book.

Police Reform in the United States: The Era of August Vollmer, 1905-1932. Gene E. Carte, Elaine H. Carte. Univ. of Caifornia Press.

The Politics of Adoption. Mary Kathleen Benet. Praeger, $8.95.

Premise for Propaganda: The United States Information Agency's Operating Assumptions in the Cold War. Leo Bogart. Free Press, $12.95.

The Rape of Inez Garcia. Jim Wood. Putnam, $7.95.

The Strength in Us: Self-Help Groups in the Modern World. Alfred H. Katz, Alfred I. Bender. New Viewpoints, $12.50/6.95.

Thunder in the Rockies: The Incredible Denver Post. Bill Hosokawa. Morrow, $12.95.

Today and Tomorrow in America. Martin Mayer. Harper & Row, $8.95.

The TV-Guided American. Arthur Asa Berger. Walker, $7.95.

The United States Marines: The First Two Hundred Years, 1775-1975. Brig. Gen. Edwin Simmons, USMC Ret. Viking, $8.95.

The Watcher and the Watched. Bruno M. Cormier, M.D. Scribners/Tundra, $10.

INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM

National, Regional, and Global Perspectives

Edited by Yonah Alexander

Foreword by Arthur J. Goldberg

"This volume represents the first serious effort by a group of scholars to write a comprehensive account of national, regional, and global perspectives of international terrorism. It makes a commendable start toward filling a gap in contemporary scholarship by analyzing and interpreting, with objectivity and clarity, the many aspects of this serious problem of importance to all who are deeply concerned with the maintenance of peace with justice both home and abroad."

- Excerpted from the foreword by Arthur J. Goldberg. 414 pp. Feb., 1976 ISBN 0-275-09480-4 ca. $20.00

$100,000,000 A DAY

Inside the World of Middle-East Money Michael Field

In 1974 the oil revenue of Saudi Arabia and Kuwait was $37 billion a year or just over a hundred million dollars a day. This incisive inside look at how the twelve members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) are coping with their newfound riches presents a comprehensive analysis of the wealth of these financial powers. Explores OPEC's policies aimed at the creation of a "new world economic order," Michael Field is oil correspondent for London's Sunday Telegraph and writer for American Banker and Financial Times.

240 pp. Apr., 1976 ISBN 0-275-56380-4 $12.95

THE PRICING OF CRUDE OIL

Economic and Strategic Guidelines of an International Energy Policy (Expanded and Updated Edition) Taki Rifai 422 pp. Sept., 1975 ISBN 0-275-01510-6 $25.00

THE SAUDI ARABIAN ECONOMY Ramon Knauerhase 390 pp. Sept., 1975 ISBN 0-275-09000-0 $23.50

DEVELOPMENT OF THE IRANIAN OIL INDUSTRY

International and Domestic Aspects Fereidun Fesharaki 346 pp. Feb., 1976 ISBN 0-275-55600-X $21.50

SAUDI ARABIA AND OIL DIPLOMACY Sheikh Rustum Ali ca. 180 pp. Apr., 1976 ISBN 0-275-56260-3 ca. $15.00

Praeger Publishers, Inc. 111 Fourth Avenue, New York, N.Y 10003